SU AT A GLANCE

The resources of a University ...

6,900 students from 29 states and 28 foreign countries . . . 43 undergraduate and 11 graduate programs . . . 314 full-time faculty, 92 percent of tenure-track faculty have terminal degrees, including National Endowment for the Humanities scholars and Fulbright professors . . . NCAA Division III Athletics, 10 men's, 11 women's intercollegiate teams; 27 intramural sports

... with small-school opportunities.

Approachable faculty (17:1 student/faculty ratio) . . . Honors program with dedicated faculty at the Bellavance Honors Center . . . Ten residence complexes including traditional, co-ed, suite and apartment styles.

The security of state support ...

2004-05 tuition, room, board and fees: $12,576 per year for Maryland residents; $20,154 per year out-of-state.

A library with over 800,000 volumes, periodicals, microforms and databases including word processing and computer labs. Access to collections throughout the country.

... with the benefits of private funding.

Altogether, SU awards some $1.2 million in academic scholarships each year. More than $29 million in private endowments supports some of those scholarships and provides for some of the finest educational programs.

In an ideal—and idyllic—location:

Salisbury, MD, is 30 miles west of the Atlantic Ocean and Ocean City, MD, and 20 miles east of the Chesapeake Bay; 2 hours from Baltimore, Washington, D.C. and Wilmington, DE. The campus is 2 1/2 hours from Norfolk, VA, and Philadelphia, PA, and 4 1/2 hours from New York.

Come see us—in person, or in cyberspace. We'd love to see your smiling face, but if you can't get here, check out our Web site. We're at www.salisbury.edu.

SU's campus is in an attractive, residential neighborhood of stately homes on sculpted lawns, less than one-half mile from the banks of the Wicomico River. The campus includes 45 buildings on over 145 landscaped acres. Students walk from one end of campus to the other in about five minutes.

Dawn Chamberlin completed her 18th season as head coach of the Salisbury University field hockey program in 2004 by leading her team to a second straight national championship.

Salisbury successfully defended its 2003 NCAA title by completing a perfect 22-0 campaign in 2004 and claiming its second consecutive championship. For the second straight season, SU defeated Middlebury in the NCAA's Championship Game.

In addition to back-to-back seasons of 20-1 (2003) and 22-0 (2004), Chamberlin has piloted the Sea Gulls to a school-record 33 straight wins over the past two seasons. The latest championship and team records simply add to Chamberlin's long list of accomplishments with the Sea Gulls.

SU captured its 10th straight Capital Athletic Conference championship in 2004 and returned to the NCAA Championship Tournament for the 20th time in 21 years while also advancing to the final four for the eighth time.

Chamberlin, who already ranks among the most successful coaches in school history, ran her career record to 263-78-8 through 18 seasons with the Sea Gulls, including 59-4 over the past three seasons. The program has produced 35 national All-Americans—including four more in 2004—and 79 all-region players during Chamberlin's tenure. Salisbury has also dominated the Capital Athletic Conference, sweeping the conference's Player of the Year and Coach of the Year awards for the fifth straight year in 2004.

Chamberlin, who also registered her 250th career victory during the 2004 campaign, has been honored as the NFHCA's South Region Coach-of-the-Year five times, including 2004. She has also been named the Capital Athletic Conference's Coach of the Year in each of the past 10 seasons. She led her squad to an amazing streak of 45-straight CAC victories between 1996 and 2001.

Chamberlin is a 1985 graduate of the University of Iowa, where she was a four-year letterwinner on the highly successful field hockey team. The Hawkeyes won the Big Ten championship outright from 1981 to 1983, before sharing the top spot in 1984. The '84 squad finished second in the nation. Chamberlin, Iowa's co-captain as both a junior and senior, was also a member of the national indoor championship team and was selected to the All-Big Ten team during her senior year.

While at Iowa, she also received the Women's Intercollegiate Athletic Academic Award (1982-1985) and the Physical Education Academic Achievement Award (1983-1985). Chamberlin earned her Master of Education from Salisbury in 1987 and her doctorate from the University of Maryland in 2000.

A TRADITION OF SUCCESS

During the past two decades, Salisbury has established itself as one of the premier field hockey programs among NCAA Division III institutions. The Sea Gulls are one of just nine schools to have captured the national championship since its inception in 1981, having claimed the top prize three times. SU registered an undefeated 21-0 campaign in 1986 to claim its first NCAA title, won the championship again in 2003 with a 20-1 record, then successfully defended the crown with a perfect 22-0 run in 2004.

Since their first visit to the NCAA postseason tournament in 1984, the Gulls have become a regular contender for the national title, with appearances in 20 of the last 21 NCAA postseason tournaments through the 2004 season.

In addition to the national championships in 1986, 2003 and 2004, SU has advanced to the Final Four on five other occasions, finishing as a national semifinalist in 1987, 1988, 1992, 2000 and 2002. Additionally, the Gulls have been national quarterfinalists four other times since 1989. Salisbury's outstanding facility has also served as a regional host site for the national championship tournament on six occasions, including both 2003 and 2004, and host of the Final Four in 2000.

The Sea Gulls notched 10 consecutive winning seasons from 1983 to 1992, and finished in the top ten in the final rankings in each of those seasons. The Sea Gulls finished the 1997 and 2004 regular seasons as the number one ranked team in the final NCAA Division III national poll, placed second in the final poll of 2001 and 2003, and third in the final 2002 poll. SU has reached double-figures in wins in 20 of the last 22 seasons and has averaged 15 wins per year during Dawn Chamberlin's tenure as head coach.

Salisbury also claimed its 10th straight Capital Athletic Conference championship in 2004. The Sea Gulls compiled a record 45-game conference winning streak between 1996 and 2001.

Quality programs are comprised of talented individuals. Salisbury is well represented on the national and regional all star teams each season. During Chamberlin's tenure, the Gulls have produced 38 national All-Americans and had a total of 79 players selected to the all-South Region team. Additionally, Chamberlin has been honored as the region's Coach-of-the-Year five times and the Capital Athletic Conference's Coach of the Year 10 times, including once again in 2004.

SALISBURY REPEATS AS NCAA NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Sea Gulls Cap Perfect 22-0 Season With 6-3 Win Over Middlebury in 2004 Championship Game

Salisbury successfully defended its NCAA Division III field hockey national championship by defeating Middlebury 6-3 in the 2004 championship game in Westfield, MA, on November 20.

Sophomore Megan Powell scored twice and four other Sea Gulls tallied single-goals as Salisbury completed a perfect 22-0 campaign. Salisbury never trailed in the 2004 final, building a 3-0 lead through the first 17 minutes and taking a 4-1 lead into halftime.

Salisbury, which also defeated Middlebury in the 2003 championship game, scored on three of its four first-half penalty corners, and also scored on a free hit play to build its halftime lead.

"We like to score first and knock them on their heels," Powell said following the game. "It helps a lot that we've been here before. We stayed calm and played our hearts out."

Head Coach Dawn Chamberlin said, "We went after it hard and set the tone early. We knew Middlebury was going to score, but we just had to score more."

The nine goals scored are a record for an NCAA Division III championship game and just one off the record for goals in any tournament game (10), which has happened twice previously. Salisbury also set a record for goals in a tournament with 19 over four NCAA games.

The Sea Gulls had advanced to the final with a 2-1 overtime win one day earlier over William Smith. Senior Erin Budd connected on a penalty stroke 8:41 into the first overtime to lead the Sea Gulls to that victory, one of just four games all season decided by one goal.

With the championship win, the Gulls established a new team record for victories in one season, snapping the previous record of 21 set by the 1986 national championship team. Salisbury, which also set new team records for season goals (108) and assists (62) in 2004, will carry a school-record 33-game winning streak into the 2005 season.

Senior Erin Budd was one of four Sea Gull All-Americans in 2004. Budd capped her career as Salisbury's all-time leader with 44 career assists.

SU'S ATHLETICS PHILOSOPHY

Salisbury University, a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's (NCAA) Division III, offers 21 intercollegiate sports for men and women. In addition to NCAA membership, SU competes as a member of the Capital Athletic Conference (CAC) and the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC).

As a member of the NCAA's Division III, Salisbury places the highest priority on the overall quality of the educational experience. In doing so, it seeks to strengthen the integration of objectives and programs in athletics with academic and developmental objectives, and to assure the integration of athletes with other students.

SU places special importance on the impact of athletics on the participants, with emphasis on the internal constituency (students, alumni and special friends) rather than on the general public and its entertainment needs.

The SU athletics program is further characterized by the following principles:

- Participants receive the same treatment as other students. They have no unique privileges in admission, academic advising, course selection, grading, living accommodations or financial aid. Similarly, athletes are not denied rights and opportunities that would be available to them as non-athletes.

- Sports for men and women are given equal emphasis and the desired quality of competition is similar in all sports.
- Students are supported in their efforts to reach high levels of performance by providing them with adequate facilities, competent coaching and appropriate competitive opportunities with students from similar institutions.
- SU strives to make the student-athlete's participation in intercollegiate athletics an enriching experience, and holds genuine concern for each participant's welfare. The intercollegiate program's foremost goal at all times is to supplement and enrich the first priority of the University, which is academic accomplishment.
